Jane

Dear all,

Apologies if you receive this more than once!

Ofsted has just issued further guidance to inspectors which includes reference to SMSC and the curriculum.

I have extracted the key sections for information but also attach the whole document so you are clear about its status and where it comes from.

Please feel free to circulate this as you think appropriate. The material should appear on the official Ofsted website in the very near future.

Best wishes,

Alan.
